

Department Head (Associate or Full Professor) Specializing in Linguistics and/or Applied Linguistics

Well-established scholars in Linguistics and/or Applied Linguistics are invited to apply for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Associate or Full Professor. The successful candidate will serve as Department Head for a period of five years following appointment (with the possibility of renewal). Appointment will be in the Department of Linguistics and Religious Studies (College of Arts and Science) which has begun a process of transformation to a department focused on Linguistics. The successful candidate will help lead this transformation.

The College of Arts and Science offers a dynamic combination of programs in the fine arts, humanities, the social sciences, and the sciences. There are over 10,000 undergraduate and graduate students in the College and 295 faculty, including 12 Canada Research Chairs. The College emphasizes student and faculty research, scholarly and artistic work, interdisciplinary programs, community outreach and international opportunities.

The University of Saskatchewan's main campus is situated on Treaty 6 Territory and the Homeland of the Métis. The University of Saskatchewan is located in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, a city with a diverse and thriving economic base, a vibrant arts community and a full range of leisure opportunities. The University has a reputation for excellence in teaching, research and scholarly activities and offers a full range of undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs to a student population of over 21,000.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate must have a PhD in a relevant area. Qualifications and research background in Linguistics, plus a teaching and/or research background in Applied Linguistics are required. A background in ESL will be an asset. We particularly welcome applicants with administrative experience, innovative research agendas, high research productivity, and evidence of Tri-Council funding.

The successful candidate is expected to develop a new vision for the Department, secure its growth, enhance student enrollments, lead faculty group research projects and lead the faculty in certifying our MA TESOL program. Responsibilities will include teaching a minimum of two courses (6cu) per year of undergraduate and graduate Linguistics/Applied Linguistics courses, and supervising graduate students.

Salary bands: Assistant Professor: $93,293 to $112,109; Associate Professor: $112,109 to $130,925; Full Professor: $130,925 to $152,877. Appointment is expected to be at the Associate Professor or Full Professor rank.

This position includes a comprehensive benefits package which includes a dental, health and extended vision care plan; pension plan, life insurance (compulsory and voluntary), academic long term disability, sick leave, travel insurance, death benefits, an employee assistance program, a professional expense allowance, and a flexible health and wellness spending program.

Application Procedure:

Submit applications electronically by e-mail as a complete dossier in PDF format. The dossier should include detailed curriculum vitae, cover letter, summary of administrative experience, statement of research interests, statement of teaching interests and philosophy, official summarized student evaluations of teaching, copies of 3 major publications, and PhD and MA transcript copies. Applicants will also arrange for three letters of reference to be provided directly to the Department. Submit applications to amy.karakochuk@usask.ca .
