

The 39th Northwest Linguistics Conference was a great success. Over the very full two days, we had approximately 60 attendees joining online and in-person. The two keynote talks and 14 presentations were very well received, with lively discussion following each session. We were able to put on this conference at no cost to the attendees, while providing in-person participants with plenty of breakfast, lunch, drinks, and snacks. Attendees who came in-person got to experience UVic campus in perfect weather, and online attendees expressed their gratitude that we were holding the conference in a hybrid format to still be able to attend from around the world. We would like to extend our deepest thanks for supporting our conference, and making it possible to have such a successful event!

You were acknowledged on our website homepage, as well as on a sheet included in our conference programme, and verbally in our opening and closing remarks by the co-chairs. The sheet included in the programme is given at the end of this report. Photos of our in-person presenters and our organizing committee can also be found on our website.

Financial report: Our total funding was $1,487.85 from the University of Victoria Graduate Student Society, the Canadian Linguistics Association, the Departments of Linguistics and Indigenous Education, and the student union of linguistics undergraduate students at UVic, Underlings. Our total expenses were $1,455.37: $824.96 for breakfasts, lunches, snacks, and beverages; $48.02 for breakfast and lunch supplies such as plates, napkins, and cutlery; $57.39 for stationary such as folders, name tags, and badges; $400 for honoraria for our two keynote speakers; and $125 in thank-you gift cards for our volunteers. Our excess of $32.48 will be e-transferred to the Underlings, as they donated free buttons and stickers to the in-person attendees.

Thank you again for your very generous support! We greatly appreciate it.
