TEACHING POSITION AVAILABLE - WINTER 2023

LING 330/3.0 Morphology
Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures
Queen’s University, Kingston, ON CAN K7L 3N6

The Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures at Queen’s University invites applications from suitably qualified candidates interested in teaching a Linguistics course in LING 330/3.0 Morphology. This is an on-campus in person, advanced course with an expected enrolment of 40 students. Candidates should have completed or be enrolled in a PhD program in Linguistics with a specialization in Morphology or a related area, and should ideally have relevant teaching experience at the university level. This is a winter term appointment for the period January 01, 2023 to April 30, 2023 with classes in session from January 9, 2023 to April 10, 2023.

The course will meet twice weekly, on Monday from 8:30 to 10:00 and on Thursday from 10:00 to 11:30. It is scheduled to take place in-person, and Queen’s will reimburse reasonable commuting costs for candidates travelling from within approximately 3 hours of Kingston. Priority will be given to qualified candidates able to teach wholly in-person; in the absence of any such candidates, however, we will consider applicants who propose to teach entirely or partially remotely.

will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant’s accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during this process, please contact: (Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures, Laurie Young at youngla@queensu.ca, 613-533-2113).

The academic staff at Queen's University are governed by the Collective Agreement between the Queen's University Faculty Association (QUFA) and the University, which is posted at http://www.queensu.ca/facultyrelations/faculty-librarians-and-archivists/queens-qufa-collective-agreement.

To comply with Federal laws, the University is obliged to gather statistical information about how many applicants for each job vacancy are Canadian citizens / permanent residents of Canada. Applicants need not identify their country of origin or citizenship, however, all applications must include one of the following statements: “I am a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada”; OR, “I am not a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada”. Applications that do not include this information will be deemed incomplete.

Applications should include a complete and current curriculum vitae, letters of reference from two (2) referees, and any other relevant materials the candidate wishes to submit for consideration such as a letter of intent, teaching dossier, etc. If letters of reference are not available contact information for two referees is accepted. Please arrange to have applications and supporting letters sent by e-mail to Laurie Young (youngla@queensu.ca) or by mail directly to:

Dr. Bronwyn Bjorkman, Associate Head
Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures
Queen’s University
Kingston Ontario Canada K7L 3N6

Questions about the position from potential applicants can be sent by email to Dr. Bronwyn Bjorkman, Associate Head of LLCU (bronwyn.bjorkman@queensu.ca).

Applications will be received until December 7, 2022. Review of applications will commence shortly thereafter, and the decision will be made by December 15, 2022. Final appointment is subject to budgetary approval. Additional information about the Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures can be found at https://www.queensu.ca/llcu.

Course Descriptions:

LING 330/3.0 Morphology
This course provides a foundation in principles of morphological analysis. Topics covered include inflectional and derivational morphology as well as the morphology-syntax and morphology-phonology interfaces. Emphasis is placed on practical discovery method, and formal analysis and explanation.

PREREQUISITE: LING 100/6.0 or permission of the Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures.